REPORT OF THE SPRING MEETING

The Spring meeting of the New England Chapter of the Music Library Association took place Saturday, May 14, at Providence Public Library. After coffee and registration, Susan Waddington of Providence Public welcomed us and gave a brief history and description of the institution and its collections.

The morning program was entitled "What's going on: current and recently-completed research projects undertaken by NEMLA members." Three area librarians described projects they have undertaken. Tish Brennan (Rhode Island College) presented a paper on "The Sally Brown Herreshoff Collection." Her interest in this collection was sparked by a bicentennial concert given by the Rhode Island Historical Society at the restored mansion of the Brown family, one of the preeminent families in late eighteenth- and early nineteenth-century Providence. Sally Brown Herreshoff had a lifelong interest in music, and her copy books, begun in about 1790 and continued throughout the rest of her life, provide concrete evidence of the musical repertoire in vogue at the time. Doug Hinman's (Brown University) talk was entitled "You really got me: an illustrated world discography of the Kinks, 1964-1994." An aficionado of the rock group, he described how his interest in meticulous research and collection of memorabilia led him through a labyrinth in untangling the various release and recording dates of the Kinks' albums worldwide. During this process he used archives at the BBC, New York Public Library, and Warner Brothers, among others. Interest from fellow collectors helped spur him into finding a publisher, who unfortunately went bankrupt before the research was completed. At this point, he hopes to self-publish in the near future what will probably be a three-volume set. Sarah Shaw (Brown University) concluded the morning session by discussing "The Rhode Island sheet music project." She presented an account of a project to create an index of the Rhode Island sheet music imprints held by Brown University. She described the project, which began with writing a grant for the Rhode Island Council on the Arts, and concluded her talk with a slide show of examples of the cover art, accompanied by a taped portion of the concert held as part of the terms of the grant.

After lunch there was a brief business meeting, during which Kathryn Burnett (Smith College) gave a eulogy for Mary Ankudowich, who died January 24. Linda Blotner (Hartt School of Music) read a tribute to and presented a gift from the chapter to Brenda Goldman on the occasion of her recent retirement from Tufts University.

The two afternoon speakers focused on "Career choices: following the road less traveled." Susan Dearborn (Conductor's Cooperative) recounted the evolution of her career from a librarian at Harvard to a sales representative first at Baker and Taylor, and then at CLSI. She then illustrated the commonality between these positions and her current position as an artist impresario for a group of conductors. Alice Abraham, music librarian for WGBH Radio in Boston, gave an interesting account of her transition from volunteer to music librarian. She described the station and its collection, pointing out how cataloging and housing a collection for a radio station differs from that of a traditional academic or public library collection.

The Mair-Davis Duo (Marilyn Mair, mandolin, and Mark Davis, guitar) played a delightful recital to round out the afternoon session. The meeting concluded with a reception provided by the Providence Public Library. Many thanks to Susan Waddington and Margaret Chevian for hosting such an interesting meeting.

))) Message from the Chair)))

I wish first of all to extend the thanks of the membership to outgoing Executive Board members Suzanne Risley and Joy Pile for their strong contributions to NEMLA. They worked hard for the organization and always approached issues with thoughtfulness and thoroughness, with a healthy dose of good humor thrown in. I know that they will continue to use their talents to help NEMLA grow and thrive.

I hope everyone enjoyed the meeting at Providence Public Library as much as I did. The weather was beautiful (again), and the sessions were well-presented and informative. Everything seemed to go like clockwork, and I attribute this to the great planning by our hosts, Susan Waddington and Margaret Chevian. They, along with assistance from the Program Committee, made my job as Program Chair easy.

The coming year will offer challenges to NEMLA. The Membership Committee will be challenged to increase our numbers, perhaps by reaching further into a diverse pool of potential members. The Program Committee will be challenged to develop informative and useful sessions at our meetings that recognize the needs of the different constituencies in our membership. And the Executive Board will be challenged to find ways to keep NEMLA fresh and forward-thinking. If you have ideas, comments or issues you think your organization needs to discuss, please contact me, Peter Munstedt (Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect), or Wendy Sistrunk (Member-At-Large).

In the meantime, have a great summer!

Carolyn A. Johnson, Connecticut College

))) Message from the Vice-Chair)))

I'd like to thank the members of the chapter for giving me the opportunity to work with you. I really look forward to this assignment. As most of you probably know, the Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect serves as Chair of the Program Committee, which organizes the chapter meetings. Current members of this committee are: Linda Solow Blotner, Robin Kibler, and Charlotte Kolczynski.

Our next NEMLA meeting will be held at Williams College on Friday, October 21, 1994. Robin Kibler, the host for the Fall meeting, just sent me a preliminary program which looks very exciting. In addition, she included a couple of enticing brochures about the Berkshires (maybe this will be an overnight trip, after all). Please mark this date on your calendars and look for more details in the next newsletter.

I would also like to invite you to consider hosting a chapter meeting. I know what you're thinking: What, is he crazy? With all my work I'm supposed to host a meeting?? Admittedly, it can take some work, but it is a great way to meet other chapter members and to highlight your collections and facilities. If interested, please contact me or any member of the Program Committee. We'll be happy to talk with you. In the meanwhile, have a cool summer!

))) Minutes from the))) ))) Business Meeting)))

The meeting was called to order by Ann Caldwell, Chair. She welcomed the group and thanked Susan Waddington and Margaret Chevian who hosted the meeting. She also thanked Carolyn Johnson, NEMLA Vice Chair/Chair Elect/Program Committee Chair for planning three meetings in a row.

Caldwell announced election results. Members of the Nominating Committee were Suzanne Risley (Chair), Jerry McBride, and Lisa Redpath. We had an excellent slate of candidates: Peter Munstedt (MIT) and Michael Rogan (Longy School of Music) for Vice Chair/Chair Elect, and Wendy Sistrunk (Tufts) and David Gilbert (Wellesley) for Member-At-Large. Caldwell congratulated the winners: Peter Munstedt and Wendy Sistrunk.

Caldwell called on Candice Feldt for the Secretary/Treasurer's report. Feldt reported that the balance as of July 1993 was $1209.81. Income y.t.d. was $524 (dues), $539 (meeting registrations), $8.50 (sale of Resource Directory), and $13.92 (interest), for a total of $1085.42. Expenditures so far have been: $265.05 (three newsletters), $221.93 (printing of the Resource Directory), $100.00 (honoraria for the Fall meeting), $222.75 (meeting costs), and $21.63 (Treasurer's expenses), for a total of $831.36. Ending balance as of May 9, 1994 was $1463.87. We subsequently received a check in the amount of $500.00 (not yet deposited at the time of this meeting) from the national MLA Board for the Directory of Music Libraries.

Proof pages for the 9th edition of the Directory of Music Libraries and Collections in New England have gone to Jim Farrington, Chair of the NEMLA Publications Committee. The Directory will soon be available for purchase. We hope to do some fairly aggressive marketing of the directory.

Membership of NEMLA is somewhat down; however, two new members were present at the Providence meeting: Syndae Steinhart and Janet Hayashi. Caldwell welcomed them. We currently have 93 members. National MLA is also concerned about declining membership. Caldwell called upon current NEMLA members to be thinking about ways to attract new members to the chapter and to make the effort to reach out. Millard Irion is the current chair of the NEMLA Membership Committee. She said that the national organization is trying to institute a program of liaisons between National and the chapters. They will be brainstorming with chapter membership liaisons about how to increase membership. Jane Gottlieb (MLA vice Chair/Chair Elect) will possibly be joining us at the next chapter meeting. One of her official duties is to be the contact between MLA and chapter membership liaisons.

Kathryn Burnett gave a eulogy for Mary Ankudowich, former Head of the Music Dept. Library at Smith College, who died this year. She graduated from Smith in 1939 and received her MLA from Columbia. She then joined the library staff at Smith, soon becoming head of the Music Department Library. When she retired in 1982, that small library had become the Josten Library of the Performing Arts. The 1983 Spring NEMLA meeting was dedicated to her. She was made Librarian Emerita at Smith college in 1993 and their rare book room is dedicated to her.

Linda Solow Blotner came to the podium to present a gift from NEMLA to Brenda Chasen Goldman, who retired this year from the Tufts University Library, in honor of her many years of devotion and hard work in music librarianship.

Paula Matthews announced that she will now be MLA's representative to ALA. She was the inheritor of Brenda Goldman's files and contacts and she thanked Brenda for this. Paula also announced a meeting at ALA on Monday from 2-4 at the Fountainbleu, the topic of the program being Performing Arts in Libraries. This meeting is being co-sponsored by the Theater Library Association, ARLIS, the Dance Librarians Discussion Group, ACRL Arts Division, and MLA. MLA's Jim Cassaro (Cornell) will be one of the speakers. Paula also thanked Jerry McBride who has completed his term with MARBI.

At the close of the meeting, Ann Caldwell turned over the infamous "blue box" (NEMLA's equivalent to MLA's gavel) to Carolyn Johnson, incoming NEMLA Chair.

Respectfully,
Candice Feldt (Tufts University), NEMLA Secretary/Treasurer

♪ FALL MEETING ♪

If you are planning to attend the Fall 1994 Chapter meeting at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass. and are considering staying over for the weekend, it is a good idea to book reservations now. There are many different types of accommodations in the area (motels, inns, bed & breakfast, with rates ranging from $42/53 single/double to $150/215 (!). Massachusetts room tax is 5.7% and Williamstown tax adds another 4%.

I will be happy to send a copy of the "Williamstown Fact Finder" to anyone who requests one. This guide includes a map, brief description of museums, recreation sites, and restaurants, and a complete list of accommodations in the area with addresses, phone numbers, and Summer/Fall rates.

I'm looking forward to seeing many of you this Fall. The meeting will be held Friday, October 21. More details will be announced in the September newsletter.

♪ Cataloging Discussion ♪ ♪ Group meets ♪

The Cataloging Discussion Group met during the Spring Chapter meeting at Providence Public Library. Joy Pile and Mickey Koth updated us on the list of sources they are compiling. Joy is working on sources for name authorities and Mickey on uniform titles. They will bring their lists to the Fall meeting to distribute to the Cataloging Discussion Group so that we can add sources we use and indicate which sources our libraries hold. When this project is finished we will have a union list of sources to consult and people to contact if we do not have a needed source in our own library.

We talked a bit about LC's cataloging simplification proposal. Members were reminded that the deadline for commenting was May 15. At a future meeting we can talk about what implications cataloging simplification may have for individual libraries.

We ended our discussion thinking it would be quite helpful to have a workshop on LC music subject headings. I will approach NELINET with this idea. They hosted a general LC subject heading workshop taught by two people from LC and may consider inviting a music cataloger from LC to hold a more specific workshop.

News of NEMLA Members

Lisa Redpath and her spouse Dennis Leclair are the new parents of a baby boy, James Michael, born April 26. He weighed 7 pounds, 10 ounces and was 20 1/4 inches long.

Harold Samuel Retires

Harold Samuel, Yale University Music Librarian, will retire on June 30, 1994. He began his career in librarianship in 1957, taking the helm of the Cornell Music Library at the urging of his professor and mentor, Donald J. Grout. In 1963 he completed his Ph.D. in musicology at Cornell, and continued on to direct the library and teach in the music department until 1971.

In 1972, Sam transferred his collection-building skills to the Yale Music Library. Through a combination of artful sleuthing, enormous energy, and fierce devotion, he has managed over the years to develop a remarkable collection of impressive and invaluable resources. Through his efforts, the library acquired a wide range of archival treasures, including the papers of Carl Ruggles, Kurt Weill, Vladimir Horowitz, Henry Gilbert, Virgil Thomson, and Benny Goodman.

Sam has also been a dedicated member of the Music Library Association, serving on the Board from 1973 to 1976, as well as on many committees. His famous wisdom and wit sparkled through his editorship of Notes from 1966 to 1970. He also served on the editorial board of the New Harvard Dictionary of Music, contributing many articles to that publication as well as to the New Grove and MGG.

As an inspiring teacher and a supportive colleague, Sam has instilled confidence in so many beginning their careers in the field. His skill, charm, warmth, and grace combine to place him in a very special category among librarians, and he will be sorely missed.

HOW FOLK SONGS GROW.

Oral History, American Music:
The Archive at Yale

You might remember the exciting session on Oral History held at the 1993 national MLA meeting in San Francisco. Several speakers described what exactly oral history entails and how to plan and conduct an interview. For the finale, Vivian Perlis, Director of the Yale University Oral History Project, interviewed composer Lou Harrison. I never knew just how rich a treasure the Oral History Project was until I toured it just this year. It is technically a component of the Yale University Music Library, although it is housed in a School of Music building across the street from us. It is literally a goldmine of information for anyone working in American music. The session at MLA and the tour have definitely increased my enthusiasm for oral history!

You will find below a listing of the oral histories held at Yale. Researchers are encouraged to use the collection. For more information, contact Vivian Perlis at the Yale School of Music, 96 Wall Street, New Haven, CT 06520 (203) 432-1988.

The lists, current to March 31, 1994, are divided into the following categories: Major Figures in American Music (with a sub-list of those with video interviews), The Charles Ives Project, The Paul Hindemith Project, The Steinway Project, and The Duke Ellington Project (individual oral histories acquired from outside Yale are marked with an asterisk). Various acquired collections are at the end.

Selected Interviews from Talking with Flutists by Pilar
 Estevan

The Yale Oral History Project has also supplied materials for three film biographies of American composers: Eubie Blake, John Cage, and Aaron Copland, all three written and co-produced by Vivian Perlis. These VHS videos are one-hour color productions originally broadcast on PBS and include unique interviews with the composer and leading figures in the arts, music and dance performances, and rare historical footage. For a brochure about the videos and ordering information, write to Vintage Productions, Inc., 139 Goodhill Road, Weston, CT 06883.
